

The International LAM Research Conference & LAMposium

In March 2015, we gathered in Chicago to celebrate 20 years of increased awareness, education, new scientific discoveries and better treatment for LAM. Women with LAM their families and friends had their choice of over 26 presentations to attend, the most of any previous year. 108 scientists and clinicians presented research and medical updates. All attendees described the conference as inspiring, meaningful and fun. Thank you to everyone who attended.
