Why Attend?

A fatal lung disease is taking the lives of women in the prime of their lives. LAM, or lymphangiomyomatosis (pronounced lim-fan-gio-lyo-myo-ma-to-sis), affects women, many of whom, until their diagnosis, were young, vibrant and healthy. Unfortunately, most women and many health care providers, including pulmonary specialists, are unaware of its existence and symptoms.

Help us raise awareness and support LAM research by attending this special event.
